Cookie statement

This website uses cookies. A cookie is a small text file that is placed on a device by websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site. For example, cookies are used to remember users' preferences; to help navigate between pages efficiently and can help determine if a user is a returning visitor, or whether the current user is logged in to the website that they are visiting.

In general there are two types of cookies; persistent cookies and session cookies.

A persistent cookie consists of a text file sent by a web server to a web browser, which will be stored by the browser and will remain valid until its expiry date (unless deleted by the user before the expiry date). This website does not use any persistent cookies.

A session cookie, on the other hand, will expire at the end of the user session, when the web browser is closed.

How to control and delete cookies

Should you wish to restrict or block the cookies which are set by this website, or indeed any other website, you can do this through your browser settings. The "Help" function within your browser should tell you how.

Alternatively, you may wish to visit www.allaboutcookies.org, which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers. You will also find details on how to delete cookies from your computer, as well as more general information about cookies. For information on how to do this on the browser of your mobile device, you will need to refer to your device manual.

Please be aware that restricting cookies may impact on the functionality of this website.

Disclosing your information

We will not disclose your personal information to any other party other than in accordance with these terms and conditions and in the circumstances detailed below:

- To the buyer in the event that we sell any or all of our business
- Where we are legally required by law to disclose your personal information
- To further fraud protection and reduce the risk of fraud
